SCHOOL SONG

Tune: (Oh Danny Boy)

Ole South Girard
Our Pride and joy are with you
From day to day
As here we spend our time
We're loyal to
And hail you on to finer things
Just being here
Has made you dear to us.

Ole South Girard
Our faithfulness will always last
We'll cling to you
Tho' Long Ago we've Passed,
Throughout your gates
To other Milestones in our Lives
Ole South Girard, Ole South Girard,
You have our Praise.

(Tune of Solong)

SO LONG SOUTH GIRARD, SO LONG

So long Girard, We will meet again
Someday South Girard.
Hope that then we will say, South Girard
We've been gone too long.

All alone with our memories of you,
We can dream that you'll always be true.
You're our own even though we are far apart
We will keep you, right here in our hearts.

So long, so long when we leave you,
We will cry S.G. High
This could never be good-bye S.G. High
We'll just say so long.

CLASS HISTORY of 1958

By

JULIA CHAMBERS AND MARGARINE HENRY

September 8, 1954, the smiling faces of teachers and the happy students began strolling down the corridors of success once again, with the only thought in mind, a prosperous and successful school term. At that time there appeared in the doorway several students discussing their summer vacation. These students were to become the class of 1958.

During our freshman year our class had to be divided into two sections. Our homeroom teachers were: Mrs. H. M. Richmond and Mrs. I. S. Lightfoot, who were very helpful and always willing to help their students with any problem. There were 69 students enrolled. Thirty-five in section one and thirty-four in section two. Our freshman year was quite confusing and complicated because we had to get adjusted to new rules and standards.

The following year we became sophomores and we had begun to feel more at home. We were more than happy to have our same hard working homeroom teachers. We were also happy to welcome the smiling faces of such new students as :Laura Coar, James Broadnax, Eunice Davis, Rosa Jackson, Mary Flakes, Dorothy Wilson, Joan Sneed, Christine Fleming, Jonathan Ealy, Albert Floyd, Erskine Stroud, Lonnie Henderson and Arthur Thompson. Our new students became good friends to every one and felt right at home because of the friendly and pleasant atmosphere with which we greeted them.

Next year we became juniors, and by this time we were well accustomed to our wonderful environment. Both sections of the class welcomed new homeroom teachers, who were Mrs. J. Rowells and Mrs. R. Y. Lewis. We again welcomed new students. They were: Alberta Davis, Mary Jo Wilson, Fannie Tolbert, Josie Freeman, and James Upshaw. We also welcomed three veterans. They are James Barnes, who became very outstanding and whom we found to be a very versatile person. K. C. Kixon (Shorty), and Willie Evans. Every Junior's head was in a claud, dreaming of the day we would give our Junior-Senior prom. The prom was really an occasion to remember. The prom was held in the beautifully decorated school auditorium. Our class colors were, "Red and White. Our Motto, "Out of school life into life's school." Our Theme was, "Love's Shop." Spot River's band furnished music for the prom. A special song, "True Love," was played for the Juniors and "I Love You Truly" was played for the Seniors. We were indeed happy to welcome a new instructor, Mr. C. Bibb, our history instructor. We found Mr. Bibb to be a hardworking instructor, who helped in every way he could. This year was exciting and filled with many pleasant memories for every Junior.

Now we come to the fourth and final year of our high school career. We were named "Calm, Cool, and Collective Seniors." With this epithet, we began to buckle down and become serious about the tasks we had to perform. There were fifty-four students enrolled. A combination of twenty-eight girls and twenty-six boys. We were more than happy to have as our homeroom teacher, the dynamic Mrs. R. Y. Lewis. The organization of our senior class was very notable, the following officers were elected: Ulysses Brown, President; James Barnes, Vice President; Margarine Henry, Recording Secretary; Gloria Boodie, Financial Secretary; Rosella Alexander, Corresponding Secretary; Walta Mae Hall, Treasurer; Amy Phillips and John Thomas, Sgts.-at-Arms, and Louise Walker, Business Manager.

During our senior year we were honored to be the first senior class to enjoy quite a number of new additions to our school. We were the first senior class to conquer the epithet "Miss Blue Streak" by popularity vote. This was the first year our queen was elected by this method. Our contest was the popular Miss Margarine Henry, who was victorious in winning this title. Our queen was honored to participate in many of the city's finest parades: The Tuskegee-Morehouse parade; The Fort Valley-Morris Brown, of which she was a contestant and won third place; Spencer's homecoming parade; and of course, our own homecoming parade. We were the first class to introduce a course in written and spoken French to our school. An assembly program was given, entitled "Un jour De Paris" (A day in Paris), which was very interesting and enjoyable to everyone. Our guest speaker was the distinguished Lt. Col. Albert Merglen of Paris, France, who spoke to us on the customs and activities of the French people. This effort was made possible through the resourcefulness of our ever hard-working Mr. Bibb. Our school, as well as our class was more than proud to enjoy for the first year, our own school band. Through the time, effort and ingenuity of Mr. L. Smith, our band proved to be very successful. As the saying goes, "One good thing leads to another." Our band led to the offspring of another band, a Jazz Band, "Lamar Smith and His Sheiks." We were very happy to have two seniors who were so outstanding to maintain their positions, although this privilege was forbidden for seniors. They were: Julia Chambers, of our fine cheerleaders squad, and Martha Gosha, our leading majorette. We were very proud of our fine football team that maintained a perfect record throughout the season. Our class was the first to obtain a former graduate as our Baccalaureate speaker, in the person of Rev. Isiah Harvey.

Conclusively, our senior year was the most exciting and memorable throughout our entire school career. In our final analysis, the class of 1958 was the most sophisticated and outstanding class of all times; they were just the most.

CLASS PROPHECY

By WALTA MAE HALL

When I was asked to write the class prophecy I was really amazed because I wondered how in the world I would know what each of my classmates would be doing five, ten or even twenty years from now.

I worried about it until I almost gave up. But during the Christmas holidays, a little friend of mine received an Aladdin's lamp for Christmas and she brought it over to my house one day and said, "Walta, if you rub this lamp and wish real hard you can see what anyone of your classmates will be doing in the future." I had practically given up hope and was disgusted, so I told her not to bother me because I had to write the class prophecy. When I mentioned prophecy she asked what did it mean, I told her that it meant to predict or foretell the future of someone. She said, well I told you that's what this lamp will do and I told her that it was just a fairy tale. But she insisted that it would foretell the future.

Soon my little friend went away but she forgot to carry her lamp and as I was about to call her I picked the lamp up and started to rub it and thought what would Rosella Alexander be doing in the next five years. As I closed my eyes, to my surprise I could see her as an English instructor at the Alabama State Teacher's College and as she talked to the other faculty members I was impressed because there beside her were Helen Hughley, Alberta Davis, Kathryn Phillips, Eunice Davis, L. C. Flemings, Joe Nathan Ealy and Rosie Lee Jackson, all members of the same faculty. Rubbing this lamp seemed very childish and if anyone had walked in the room while I was doing this, I really wouldn't have had an explanation. I continued to rub the lamp and I could see Amy Phillips, Josie Freeman, Anna Davis, Miley Lawrence, Dorothy Wilson, Martha Gosha and Christine Fleming as Registered Nurse attending a nurse's convention, headed by Dr. James Barnes of the Barnes Medical Center of Pittsburgh, Pa. This was getting very exciting. Robert Williams came next to my mind so I rubbed the lamp and before I had started good I could see him as a famous artist just finished drawing the President of the United States' portrait. This would not be a surprise to anyone because everyone knew Robert Williams was very artistic.

Indeed this was interesting and I couldn't wait to see what Randolph Golden, Leslie Holloway and Rudolph Rutledge would be doing five years from now. As I rubbed the lamp I could see Randolph as a lawyer in the district attorney Rudolph Rutledge's office and as I looked down the hall in this exclusive building, I saw a sign on one door that read, Lawyer K. C. Dixon and Leslie Holloway. Inside I could see Elois Lewis getting a divorce from her third husband on grounds of non-support.

I would have to hurry if I wanted to finish this in the next hour. So to speed time up I continued to rub the lamp and thought of Lonnie Henderson. As I gazed into the lamp I wasn't at all surprised at what I saw because Lonnie Henderson was now heavyweight champion of the world and heading his own gym for trainers. I didn't stop rubbing the lamp because I was anxious to see what Mary Jo Wilson would be doing and to my surprise I saw her as a fashion designer in Paris, France. Quickly I thought of the entertainment world and I remembered that Margarine Henry, Annie Hubbard, Gloria Boddie and Burnett Kimbrough were all musicians and I thought of the Moulin Rouge and its fine stars and I looked over the entrance and the sign read starring tonight that sensational vocalist Margarine Henry, and the band accompanying her was John Thomas and his Sycopators. Down the street from the Moulin Rouge was a dance studio and Annie Hubbard was owner. Gloria Boddie and Burnett Kimbrough are now still close friends and they have their own television show on Channel 2, sponsored by that ever-ambitious, James Lyles, who is now the inventor of that smart sport car Lysan Mark IV which costs $22,000. Willie Sanders was such a good friend of James Lyles so I looked around in the office of the Company that makes the new sport cars, Lysan, and there Willie Sanders was, Vice President of the company.

I knew we had some athletes in our class, so as I rubbed the lamp those fellows were Larry Tarver and Ulysses Brown's position ten years from now became visible; Larry a professional tennis player, and Ulysses Brown a graduate of F.A.M.U. playing pro-football.

This rubbing business was getting to be a habit now and if the lamp was taken from me I would be lost. Julia Chambers and Sarah Cook were my next victims, so as I rubbed the lamp I could see them touring the world after inheriting a million dollars each from an anonymous donor. I was indeed glad to see them doing this because I had often heard them speak of not having seen any part of the world except Alabama and a small portion of Georgia. As this picture was fading out, another one came into focus and there was Ray Plezes, great evangelist, holding a convention in Madison Square Garden. About two blocks from Madison Square Garden there we see Doctors James Upshaw, Erskine Stroud and Albert Floyd in their office just settling down from their trip to the moon. These doctors were the first to invent a missile that would go to the moon in a half-hour. Our hats are off to you for this invention.

Joan Sneed, five years from now, will be the famous hair stylist with her own beauty shop associated with the Rose Morgan House of Beauty.

Louise Walker can be seen five years from now as Lawyer K. C. Dixon's secretary.

Jessie Mae Ford, five years from now will be a housewife, and married to her 15th husband in a period of two years. Five years from now Arthur Thompson will be a great poet.

I had rubbed so much that my hands were about to blister. But I had almost forgotten Fannie Tolbert, Mary Flakes, Gloria Freeman and Laura Coar. Fannie Tolbert, five years from now is a nurse in the Air Force. Mary Flakes is a great orator. Gloria Freeman, a movie producer who received the Oscar for her first movie entitled "S. G. Rock." Laura Coar is now a secretary at Clark College.

Last but by no means least, yours truly will be married and working on her master's degree at Florida A&M University.

THE MONTH BEFORE GRADUATION

By Arthur Thompson

'Twas the month before graduation,
And all through the hall;
We seniors were gay; the happiest of them all.
We have our futures all planned with care,
And hope that the sixth of June will soon be here.
Some huddled in bunches, groups and pairs,
To compare the plans of others with theirs.
Some of us will be Doctors, this you will discover,
Some will be Nurses, Secretaries and Mothers.
Now that the sixth is drawing near.
We seniors have the feeling that we haven't a care.
We asked for our privileges as other classes did,
And when they were granted, our hearts felt big.
Yes, we seniors have gotten our privileges at last,
And now we sit out front in the grass.
When we leave, we know it will be sad,
But the dear little juniors will be glad.
We've reached the goal of success at last.
And we've passed the test in Mr. Bibb's French Class.
As we leave, we say to everyone,
Whatever you do, let it be well done.

CLASS POEM

By Willie Sanders

The time has come when we must go
We do admit these years have been so.

It is time for us to go on our way
Oh, how we wish that we could stay

In June when we walk out these doors
South Girard will be with us where ever we go.

We must say it hurts us to say goodbye
To look around our room and see each other cry.

How we will miss cracking jokes with Mr. Harrison
And calling Mr. Bibb and the janitor for comparison.

The years we spent here, uor work has been tuff
So will leave it to the Juniors to keep it up.

The Juniors been praying for this day to come
So they'll be Seniors and a class of one.

So far we have the largest class to graduate
So please don't forget the class of '58.

THE TIME OF GRADUATION

By James Lyles

At the time of graduation the Seniors will be sad
But our dear Juniors will be very glad.

Through these corridors we will no more pass
On our way to Mr. Robinson's Chemistry class.

We will try to do our best
But we Seniors will have no more rest.

We will graduate with vision of scholarship in our head
But wherever we go we will put S.G. over our bed.

We will leave to accomplish great things
But we have to take what nature brings.

When we return to you for a short visit
We will retain everything that she hath giveth.

Some will be teachers, doctors, lawyers and scientists
But we all pray none of us will be mindless.

We will do our best to conquer the unknown
Even if we have to work our fingers to the bone.

Yes, we are the Seniors of '57 and '58
We all pray to accomplish something great.

ECHOES FROM THE JUNIORS

We, the Juniors of South Girard High realize that you Seniors are ready to take off into a vast world of limitless opportunities. Success is your goal, because of your most colorful and dynamic school years filled with many activities that were worthy, which shall always be remembered by your fellow classmates.

We pause to say we are proud of you, honor and even hold you dear to our hearts.

We hope that in looking over this yearbook, you will realize as you gaze upon new faces as well as the new activities inserted that we have done more to make this book more interesting, more colorful and captivating to the eye, which will cast its spell on you to ever be true to us in helping to improve as we move forward.

Remembering our motto "Semper Paratus" always ready and prepared to do a good and better job. This we mean: our family and school life are the roots which made our foundation for this superior piece of work.

Hats off to you and your sponsor, Mrs. R. Y. Lewis who worked diligently and patiently with a smile throughout the school year. Success is yours.

SCHOOL SONG

Tune: (Oh Danny Boy)

Ole South Girard
Our Pride and joy are with you
From day to day
As here we spend our time
We're loyal to
And hail you on to finer things
Just being here
Has made you dear to us.

Ole South Girard
Our faithfulness will always last
We'll cling to you
Tho' Long Ago we've Passed,
Throughout your gates
To other Milestones in our Lives
Ole South Girard, Ole South Girard,
You have our Praise.
